Recreating the Cosmos

The land, sea, and sky are recognized.

PC 1: The waters support and surround us

The land extends about us

The sky stretches out above us:

At the center burns a living flame.

May all the Kindreds bless us.

May our worship be true

May our actions be just

May our love be pure.

Blessings, and honor, and worship to the holy ones.

(Words and music by Ceisiwr Serith)

All sing "The Portal Song"

CHORUS:

By Fire and by Water, between the Earth and Sky

We stand like the World Tree rooted deep, crowned high.

Come we now to the Well, the eye and the mouth of Earth,

Come we now to the Well, and silver we bring,

Come we now to the Well, the waters of rebirth,

Come we now to the Well, together we sing:

CHORUS

We will kindle a Fire, Bless all, and with harm to none,

We will kindle a Fire, and offering pour,

We will kindle a Fire, A light 'neath the Moon & Sun,

We will kindle a fire, our spirits will soar.

CHORUS

Gather we at the Tree, the root & the crown of all,

Gather we at the Tree, Below & above,

Gather we at the Tree, Together we make our call,

Gather we at the Tree, In wisdom & love.

Oh Lord of the Otherworld, bearer of the silvered apple branch, join with us this day, so that you may guide us in our workings. Mist-shrouded rider of the maned waves, accept my offering and open the gates between my realm and yours.

Key Offerings

Offering to the Being of the Occasion

PC 1: People of the Earth, I speak of the great God, Lugh Lamh-Fada, the son of the Sun, the bearer of the spear of light, and the master of all arts. On the day he arrived at the royal hill of Tara, he shone with the brilliance of the rising sun. And the gatekeeper challenged him and tried to turn him away, saying that they had a man for each of the skills that Lugh Lamh-Fada possessed. But Lugh was the Many Talented One, and the royal court had no one who could do all of them himself, and so he was admitted within the royal enclosure and placed on the throne of sovereignty for nine days. A wonder was upon the people of the royal court at Uisneach, where the King of Ireland hosted a great gathering of the Tuatha de Dannan, who saw him approaching from the west. For they thought he was the morning sun, although the sun rises in the east. And it was Lugh who stirred and inspired the armies of the Tuatha de Dannan to rise up against the Fomorians who were oppressing them. And it was Lugh whose casting spear took out the evil eye of his grandfather Balor, the chief of the Fomorians, and so made an end of him. And he was the only one who could do this, for he was descended from both tribes. At this time his name and story lives forever. .

PC 2: O Mighty Kindred, accept our sacrifice! That our love to you strengthens the energy, That we together show the universe the fertility and wonder of our synergy.

PC 2: Mighty Kindred, accept our sacrifice!

All: Mighty Kindred, accept our sacrifice!

Sacrificer gives Offering into the fire

All sing "The Offering Song"

Let our voices arise on the Fire
Let our voices resound in the Deep
May the spirits accept what we offer,
As we honor the old ways we keep.

The Omen

The Grove is led in a humming chant. When this is done the Seer will decipher the Omen.

All: Nature Spirits! Give us the Waters!

PC 1 and PC 2:

Thanking the Earth Mother and Final Closing

PC 1: Be it so!

All: Be it so!

The Seer reverses the Two Powers/Guided Meditation and re-grounds everyone. The remaining offerings are dispersed on the ground.

PC 2: Earth Mother, We thank you!

All: We thank you!

The bell is chimed nine times

PC 1: Children of the Earth Mother, thank you for coming to our Rite.

PC 1: May the road rise with you.
May the wind be always at your back.
May the sunshine warm upon your face.
May the rain fall softly on your fields.
And until we meet again,
May they hold you in the hollow of Their hands.
